

Reviving your Winter lawn

Our experts can assess which of the following two services will be best for your lawn

Core Aeration

Aerating your lawn in the Spring encourages new growth and the spreading of existing grass in areas affected by fungus or other winter damage

Benefits

- Increases air water and water penetration to root zones
- Relieves soil compaction
- Improves drainage
- Increases effectiveness of fertilizer and other lawn products

Slice Seeding

Conserv-A-Lawn's advanced slice seeding equipment allows seed to make contact with the soil and maximizes seed germination and the spreading of new growth.

Benefits

- Introduces new seed into new or existing lawns.
- Most effective way to insure seed to soil contact.
- Repairs lawn from seasonal damage
- Improves overall appearance on a thin or weak lawn.
